Seven names are entered as those for whose extention no orders have been passed. Is not the Comtroller bound to have objected to the disbursement of their pay? I do not see anything to that ef effect in the Regulations. But I remember that there are cases in which such objection has been raised. Is there any order or precedent on the matter?

24-3-03.

In the case of Mr. N. Narasimmiengar instructions were issued by the Comtroller in I90I to the Treasury not to disburse his pay, but they were cancelled by himself vide papers marked A&B .

In I902, the Comptroller obtained the order of Government in the matter , vide papers marked , C, D, &E.

If considered necessary , the opinions of superiors will be obtained as was done last two years. But as most of the officers are high up and all are more or less known to Government , I do n know whether this is necessary.

4-7-03. Secretary.

Submitted to His Highness.

This is the first batch of officers who have been superannuated. The following officers are granted extensions for one year.

I. Mr. Clapham of the Chief Court.

2. Mr. Mahomed Jaffir , Supdt. of Police.

Both have been recommended as efficient officers . The Chief Judge proposes that (I) should be retained till he effects some revision and gives more important work to him than at present.

The following are recommended to be retired next year.

I. Mr. Davy.

2. Mr. Eagles.

3. Mr. King.

4. Mr. Arbuthnott.

5. Mr. Nagesvara Iyer.

. Mr. Venkatapathi Iyengar.

The object of so stating is that the officers concerned may know that their tenure will not be extended beyond next year. This is to avoid any uncertain expectation on their part that they may be allowed to hold on. The first Councillor is of opinion that Mr. Venkatapathi Iyengar . Dy. Inspector of schools may be retired at once. He has been very favourably reported by the I.G.of Education: and both Myself and 2nd. Councillor in the charge charge of the Education Department are of opinion that he has energy and strength to continue for another year.He takes interest in Industria Education and it appears to me that it is quite unnecessary to remove him and increase the pensionary charges. I recommend that he may be retain -ed till next year.

The following are to be retired at once.

1. Mr. Kesavaiya
2. Mr. Seshagiri Rao
3. Mr. Bheemasena Rao.

all of us are agrred in these opinions with the exception of Mr. Venkatapathi Iyengar. And I recommend that sanction may be graciously accorded to the above recommendations.

The cases of

1. Col. Grant
2. Mr. Rice
3. Cook
4. Venkata Ranga Iyengar, Excise Asst.Comr.

have yet to be considered and some additional informati is awaited. A separate note will be submitted. Mr. Primrose has retired as ordered by His Highness last year, and Mr V.N.Narasimha Iyengar is working under the personal orders of His Highness.

Order.

The order in Mr. Davy's case may be altered to extension for one year. The question of his retirement may be considered next year.

I should like to know more about Mr. Eaglen and will discuss the matter in Bangalore. The proposed orders in the remaining c cases are sanctioned.
